S. Koreans Recapture Crest Of White Horse Hill

Peak Changes Hands 12 Times In Bitter Fight

Fighting Fierce Along Front In 3rd Day Of Big Red Offensive

SEOUL (AP)—South Korean infantrymen fighting with bayonets tonight recaptured a vital shell-cratered peak overlooking the ancient invasion route to Seoul in a brutal battle that has raged since Monday night.

A front line officer said the Korean troops cut a Chinese battalion of 700 men down to 150 in recapturing the crest of White Horse Hill on the Western Front.

The peak—main objective of the biggest Communist attack in a year—has changed hands more than a dozen times as both sides threw tanks, artillery and men into the raging battle.

Hit South of Slope

A few hours earlier the Chinese recklessly charged through an Allied artillery barrage and captured the crest. Then they hit the Korean defenders on the south slope but the Republicans held fast.

Fighting was only slightly less bitter elsewhere along the front as the big Red offensive moved into its third day.

Allied warplanes rocketed overhead, plastering Red lines directly behind the front.

Earlier today in Seoul, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. Eighth Army commander, said:

"The Eighth Army has stopped all attacks without any penetration of its main battle positions. Action has been limited to outposts, and the enemy has been clobbered in that area."

Morale Reported High

"The troops which have participated in the current action are as elated over the good shooting as I am. Morale never has been higher."

And U. N. negotiators postponed indefinitely the armistice talks at Panmunjom. Top U. N. officials stressed that the talks were not necessary at an end.

AP correspondent Milo Farneti reported from the front that the crest of White Horse Mountain was a shell-shattered no man's land. It had changed hands 12 times in 42 hours of almost continuous fighting.

White Horse and nearby Arrowhead ridge, guard the sprawling Chorwon Valley and the gateway to the South. The peaks have been the main target of the Red offensive.

Farneti said the battered remnants of a Red battalion were dug in on one slope. South Koreans were just off the peak on the other side.

Farneti said the Chinese may have lost as many as 3,000 men in the White Horse-Arrowhead sector alone.

Allied big guns ripped into one group of 1,000 Chinese reinforcements.

Youth Is Arrested After 2-Car Mishap

One person was slightly injured and a 17-year-old Salem High School student was arrested by police in a two-car collision which occurred at 7:35 p.m. Tuesday at the intersection of Sharp Ave. and Prospect St.

Mrs. Zella E. Mickunas of 593 Prospect St., a passenger in the car driven by her husband, John, was treated for a bruised arm and released by a local doctor after the mishap.

The youth was cited by police for failure to obey a stop sign and was turned over to juvenile authorities.

McCarthy Tactics Hit In Stevenson Speech

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson carried his presidential campaign into the Wisconsin balliwick of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy today with the assertion that the "voice of the accuser" must not still all others in the land.

Stevenson was preparing to sail into Eisenhower as representing only a mouthpiece for Sen. Robert

A. Taft of Ohio in a major address in Milwaukee tonight.

He picked McCarthy—without naming the senator in the advance text handed to newsmen—as the object for attack in a speech prepared for a University of Wisconsin Field House audience.

Aimed At McCarthy

Declaring that "the pillorying of the innocent has caused the wise to stammer and the timid to retreat," the Illinois governor left no doubt he was aiming at McCarthy when he asserted:

"I hope the time will never come in America when charges are taken as the equivalent of facts, when suspicions are confused with certainties and when the voice of the accuser stills every other voice in the land."

Stevenson has chided Eisenhower for supporting McCarthy's bid for re-election, despite the Wisconsin senator's attack on the patriotism of Gen. George C. Marshall, the Republican nominee's old friend.

Eisenhower has said that while he will support all of the Republican nominees for Congress—including McCarthy, who conferred with him when the general was campaigning in Wisconsin—he does condone "besmirching the reputation of any innocent man or condemning by loose association."

Democrats contend McCarthy has done just that. And Stevenson told an enthusiastic, overflow audience in Detroit's 4,500-seat Masonic Temple last night that McCarthy had failed to turn up a single Communist with "wild and reckless" charges.

Job for Professionals

"Catching real Communist agents, like killing poisonous snakes or tigers, is not a job for amateurs or children, especially noisy ones," he said acidly. "It is a job for professionals who know their business and their adversaries."

The Illinois governor lashed out in his Madison speech against what he said was talk by the Republicans about "American duplicity, weakness, hesitation and fear."

In an oblique reference what he regards as GOP campaign tactics, he declared:

"Some, perhaps, find it politically profitable to cultivate the vineyards of anxiety. I would warn them lest they reap the grapes of wrath."

"I believe that our people have begun to tire of hearing how weak they are, how feeble is their faith, how urgent it is to limit and surrender their freedom. I would say: Enough of this weakness and cowardice."

Health Board Request

Council Clerk R. M. Linder read a letter from the health department in which City Health Commissioner Dr. R. T. Holzbach requested that the city provide a car for the use of the health nurse, when one is appointed.

The letter stated that the present salary for a city nurse is below that of hospital regular duty nurses and that the additional burden of maintaining a car contributed to the fact that no nurse has applied for the city job.

Finance Committee Chairman Fred W. Koenreich told other councilmen that he had discussed the matter with Dr. Holzbach and that the health department was willing to go along with other city departments.

Truce Talks Indefinitely Postponed

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The Allies today indefinitely postponed Korean armistice negotiations and bluntly told the Reds the next move was up to them.

The dramatic action was taken on "higher authority," Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters said without elaboration.

The postponement was taken until the Communists either accept an Allied proposal for settling the stalemate over prisoner of war exchange or make "a constructive proposal of their own."

What may prove to be the final break in the talks, started 15 months ago, resulted from a deadlock in the knotty problem of prisoner of war exchange, last unsolved item on the agenda.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison senior Allied negotiator, said the Allies would return to the truce site any time the Reds were ready to accept one of three alternate Allied plans for settling the POW question or were willing to make "a constructive proposal" in writing.

3 British Trains Collide, 81 Killed

HARROW, England (AP)—At least 81 persons died today in the collision of three passenger trains here at the height of the morning commuting rush.

The government-operated railways in announcing the death toll said there were 130 other casualties with "more still to come."

Commuters standing on the Harrow platform were mowed down as if by a giant scythe when the third train's locomotive left the rails and plowed into two trains already wrecked.

The death toll of 81 was announced almost eight hours after the three-way collision. At that time three coaches under the main bulk of the wreckage were still to be reached by rescue workers. The crash piled coach on coach in a 50-foot heap of wreckage.

The collision involved two expresses and a commuter train. Many of the victims had been waiting at the station of this Middlesex village, 10 miles northwest of London.

People standing on the platform were cut down as a locomotive of the London-Manchester Express screamed through the waiting crowd, sheared through the waiting crowd. Within minutes this corner of Harrow looked like a burned-out silhouette of wartime London.

A suburban train standing in the station first was hit from behind by an express bound for London from Scotland. Then, as the wreckage of this collision splattered the area, the London-Manchester Express roared up from behind and plowed into the piled up coaches.

Besides the dead accounted for by police, 70 persons were in hospitals and 41 persons had been sent home after treatment.

It was Britain's worst train wreck in 37 years. A dozen coaches were in a pile of wreckage in the heart of the Harrow station.

Harr's Confession of Fight With Zlatar Admitted As Evidence

LISBON—A confession made by Sylvester M. Harr that he had a fight with Mike Zlatar the night the 70-year-old man was killed was admitted in evidence at Harr's second degree murder trial Tuesday afternoon.

The state is expected to finish its case this morning. Harr, a 21-year-old former Lisbon cab driver, is alleged to have beaten the old man to death Jan. 14. The admission of the confession, obtained at the Blair County, Pa., jail on Jan. 22, offset a denial by Harr's half brother, Kenneth Ferguson of near Lisbon, that the accused man admitted having a fight with Zlatar over the sale of a coal stove.

Prosecutor James MacDonald moved for the admission of the eight-page confession following testimony by Chief Deputy Al Hartman.

Harr made his confession to Hartman and several Blair County officials. He was being held there on a robbery charge.

In the confession, read to the jury by MacDonald, Harr admitted going to the Zlatar home on Trinity Church Road and struggling with Zlatar after he refused to sell a stove. In the statement Harr said he had been drinking and

Ike Opens Drive For Big California Vote

ABOARD EISENHOWER TRAIN—Dwight D. Eisenhower drove his slam-bang attack against the administration and President Truman to California today, hoping to win its 32 electoral votes.

There were indications that he'll personally fight back at criticisms thrown at him by Truman.

He struck back last night at Democratic accusations that he's now trying to disclaim responsibility for foreign policies that he helped to decide.

Truman has said Eisenhower periled the United States by not sizing up the Russian threat after the war.

Eisenhower answered that in Eugene, Ore., last night. He said: "As you know, ladies and gentlemen, through this region another (Truman's) campaign train preceded mine some time back."

From its back platform, many red hot salvos were loosed at me. Now one of the charges made was that in 1945 I expressed the hope and belief that Russia wanted to establish a workable friendship with us. I was testifying for increased Army strength. I proposed that we hope for the best and be prepared for the worst.

Policy Proved Right

"Now, I think if we had not pursued such a policy at that time, today in view of the chaos in which the world exists, we would be terribly blaming ourselves for not having done our best. Yet from the back platform of a campaign train came the charge that because of that hope and that belief I had done much to destroy the safety of my country."

And that charge came from the very same man who only three years later, remember, in 1948, came to this town, and said:

"I like old Uncle Joe Stalin. Joe is a decent fellow. But the people that run the government won't let him be as decent as he would like to be."

Eugene, Mayor Edwin Johnson estimated the crowd at 6,000.

Claims Principles Betrayed

Eisenhower yesterday quoting President Truman as saying that the GOP candidate "has betrayed his principles by publicly endorsing every Republican candidate in the country, regardless of whether that man is the blackest of reactionaries, a die-hard isolationist or even a moral scoundrel."

Eisenhower flushed and exclaimed: "Isn't that something!" but he refused to say anything further.

However, his advisors immediately arranged to get a report on the Truman speech for detailed study.

Adams said in his statement Truman was using "extravagant language" to "conceal the truth."

"A conspicuous example is his

Control Over Project Mapped At Meeting

Councilmen Keep Reporters From Two-Hour Caucus

Mayor Harry M. Vincent, City Council and the Water Commission agreed Tuesday night on two steps calculated to restore order to Salem's confused water situation.

As a result of a two-hour long closed meeting among city officials, councilmen and members of the commission, these developments were reported:

(1) The Water Commission, water committee of Council and City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff will meet at the earliest possible moment to discuss methods of bringing the East Cold Run reservoir project under direct supervision of the city administration.

(2) Council will meet in a special session at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow with representatives of the Ryan Sutherland Co. of Toledo to negotiate for the delayed sale of second mortgage waterworks revenue bonds in the amount of $200,000.

Reporters Are Barred

Council barred newspaper reporters from its closed meeting which was announced by Council President Ned Massa. Without adjourning the meeting, councilmen left council chambers and held their private caucus in a room adjoining the mayor's office.

This session broke up at 11, exactly two hours later.

Mayor Vincent explained that the closed meeting was held to permit all Water Commission members to express their views on the report which he had presented to a closed meeting of Council last Thursday.

Mayor Vincent, who had intended to deliver a report to Council last night containing his recommendations on the water situation, said after the session that he was deferring his report pending the outcome of the meeting between the Water Commission, water committee and Mr. Barckhoff.

In the reservoir project expose released Friday, Mayor Vincent stated that liaison between the Water Commission and Council has been haphazard in the past, with the result that Council, as well as the public, has been kept "pretty much in the dark" concerning the project.

The report claimed that "divorcing" City Engineer Barckhoff from the project furthered the situation to the point that the city lost a major part of its control, from an engineering standpoint, over the reservoir.

City Lost Its Contact

The appointment by the Chester Engineers of a member of their staff to act as resident engineer removed the last vestige of supervision of the project by the city, the report said.

The report claimed that the Chester Engineers thereby placed the City of Salem entirely at their mercy and therefore owed the city the highest degree of care to see that the project was completed

2 Russian Jets Fire On U.S. Mercy Plane

BERLIN (AP)—Two Soviet jet fighters fired several machine-gun bursts at a U. S. Air Force mercy plane in the Allied air corridor 60 miles southwest of Berlin today but the American ship escaped into the clouds and reached Berlin unscathed.

Maj. Gen. Lemuel B. Mathewson, U. S. commandant in Berlin, personally interviewed the plane crew after they landed at Tempelhof air base and said an immediate protest would be made to the Soviet high command.

The plane, a twin-engine DC3, was en route to Berlin with an Army nurse aboard to evacuate Army patients for special treatment at base hospitals in West Germany.

The crew reported the two Soviet MIG15 jets swooped on them and fired several machine-gun bursts across their path.

The American pilot flew directly into cloud cover which happened to be at hand and got away," Gen. Mathewson said.

Gen. Mathewson indicated the plane was abiding by the four-power rules at the time of the incident and was flying at the proper altitude and within the boundaries of the corridor reserved for Allied flights.

Sen. Nixon Raps Attacks On Ike Says Blasts Hurt America's Prestige

ABOARD NIXON TRAIN — Sen. Richard M. Nixon said last night President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson "are trying to destroy the reputation and standing of a great American, Dwight Eisenhower, regardless of its cost to the prestige of America."

Speaking to a Republican rally at Canton, O., the Republican vice presidential nominee said, "They now blame Eisenhower for everything, for high prices, for tremendous losses to the Communists—even for Korea."

The California senator, on the first leg of a two-day whistle-stop tour of Ohio, said, "In the order of importance the Democratic line-up now reads: Truman, Acheson and Stevenson," and added: "Stevenson's failure to disavow these dishonest attacks against Gen. Eisenhower by Truman and Acheson has spelled his defeat."

Nixon said it is essential to maintain a sound national economy in order to beat world communism. "I charge that the record of Truman and Acheson—as well as that of Acheson's former assistant, Adlai Stevenson—gives the American people no hope for safety at home from the sinister threat of Communism. If we continue this team in office for another four years, there will be more Alger Hisses, more atomic spies, more crises."

The election of Eisenhower, the senator said, will be the signal for the general to rid the government of Communists "and the people who put them there."

At Canton, Nixon addressed a near-capacity crowd in the 6,000-seat Memorial Hall. A police estimated crowd of 750 greeted the senator on his arrival at the railroad station.

Earlier, Nixon gave rear-plate from talks at Coshocton, Steubenville, Dennison, Newark and Zanesville. Fire Chief Walt Weaver estimated 6,000 persons surrounded Nixon's train platform at Coshocton.

On his swing through the state's Eastern coal-mining area, Nixon said the way to defeat communism "without a war is to win the battle going on for the minds and hearts of the people. It's a spiritual and moral offensive. You've got to get the crooks out of Washington. Eisenhower will restore sound morals."

Big Moonshine Still Built On Sheriff's Farm

HODGENVILLE, Ky. — Somebody played a dirty trick on Wayne County Sheriff Joe Burnett.

A 220-gallon moonshine still was set up on the sheriff's farm, located about 10 miles northeast of here.

The sheriff and his tenant, Earl West, notified officers here yesterday the still—one of the largest ever discovered in Larue County, of which Hodgenville is the county seat—had been found in a heavily wooded ravine in a remote section of the farm.

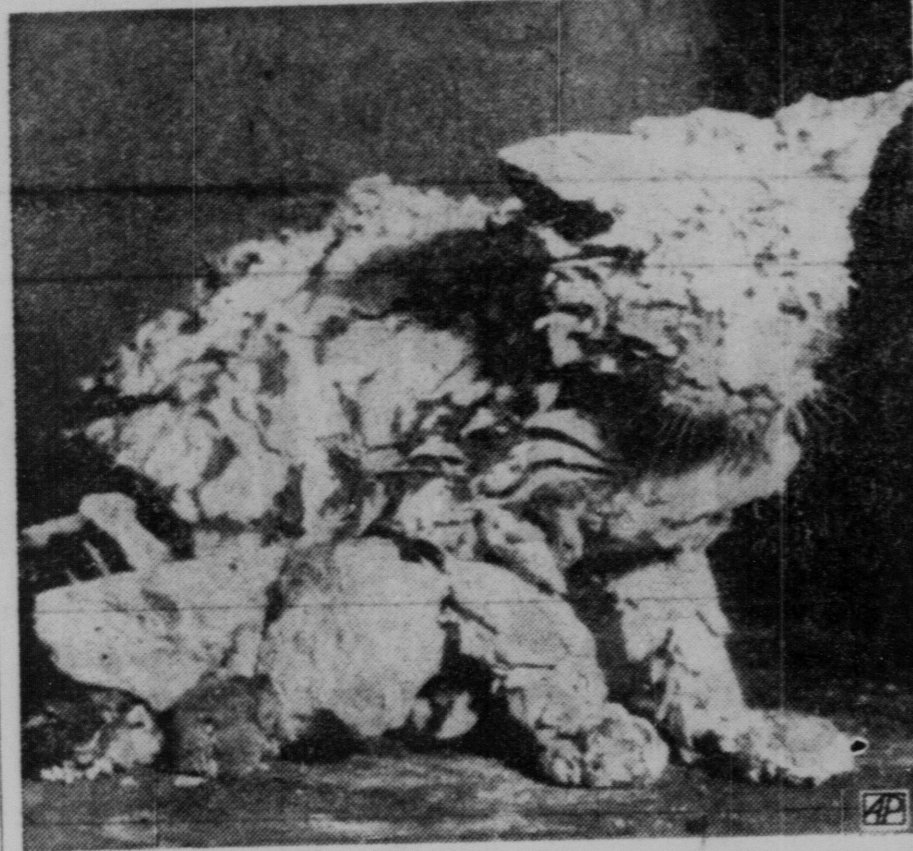

Raiding officers destroyed the steam-operated still, 43 barrels of mash, 500 pounds of corn meal, 200 pounds of sugar, 500 pounds of malt and 13 gallons of moonshine whisky. No arrests were made.

Sparkman Hits At Republican Party Disunity

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. — The Democratic vice presidential nominee made four brief appearances and a major address in West Virginia yesterday, then headed into neighboring Ohio for more campaigning today.

At Huntington, Sen. John J. Sparkman expressed doubt that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, GOP presidential nominee, can ever get his Republican team to work together should he win the election.

The Alabamian called out the names of Sen. Joseph McCarthy, Sen. James Kem of Missouri and other Republican congressmen, then said:

"I wonder if Eisenhower really believes he is going to whip this bunch into a winning ball team should he ever be given the chance."

"He must know they are opposed to everything that he has supported so valiantly in the past. Does he think he can capture them?"

On his swing through Southern West Virginia earlier in the day, Sparkman ridiculed the Republican cry that it is time for a change.

Any change the Republicans could make, could only be one to the "hard times of Hoover," he said.

Sparkman had a crowd of about 2,000 in the Huntington City Auditorium, a highly receptive crowd estimated by police at 1,500 at Logan and smaller groups at Beckley, Mullens and Pineville.

He was scheduled to speak to a Jackson-Jefferson dinner at Columbus, O., tonight at 9 p.m. (EST).

TURN TO YOUR FIREPLACE

Turn your chairs from the picture window to the fireplace. Give up your outdoors view for a snug, cozy indoor arrangement around the hearth. Change over from cool, airy open effects to a study of fireside warmth.

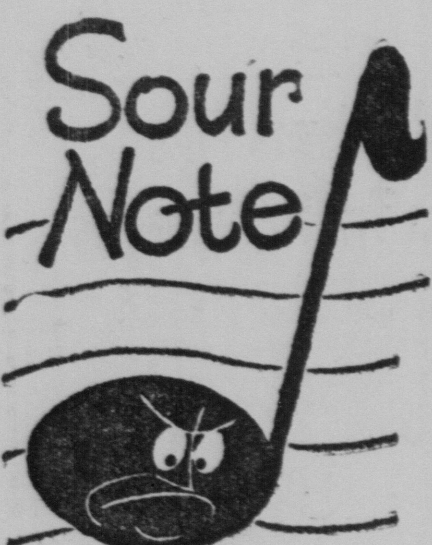

One of the best sitting arrangements for a wall fireplace is the conventional placement of two chairs, two love seats or two sofas flanking either side, for conversational proximity. Or face a sofa to the fire, then add side chairs to complete the semi-circle.

Have a hassock handy to move "near up" for short warm-ups. Long, low benches make comfortable seating for many people. A shaggy rug is the best "chair" for toddlers.

If you've added television to your room since the fire went out, you may face a new problem. If the screen picks up a reflection of the fire or a glare, you can't "switch it off" like a lamp. You'll have to do some re-arranging.

Before you light the fire, you'll want to re-check your room's hospitality. Does it look like a haven from cold weather? Are rugs thick, colors warmly inviting? Are there plenty of restful, stay-a-while chairs and sofas? Are your accessories in keeping with the season? If you need fill-ins, now is the time to shop for them at Arbaugh's in readiness for the mercury drop.

Kiwanis Elects
Arn PresidentMembers Hear Talk
By Club Official

COLUMBIANA—Malcolm Heed of Parma, former governor of the Ohio district of Kiwanis, who spoke at the meeting of the Columbiana club Monday evening, deplored the apathy of U. S. citizens toward government controls, which he said have become too much a part of the people's lives.

A tendency toward the nationalization of education and other elements of the national life was also dwelt upon as a peril to the general welfare. The speaker was introduced by R. J. Barrow of the Columbiana club, lieutenant governor of the 15th division.

The annual election resulted in the choice of these officers: William B. Arn, president; William Furney, vice president; William Gloss, John Backstrom and Wayne Paulson, new directors. Officers assume their duties at the first meeting in January.

Delegates to the Ohio district convention in Cleveland next week, beginning Sunday, are Arn, Furney and Dr. George Myers; alternates, Backstrom, Gloss and Paulson.

Members of the club voted to change the meeting time Mondays from 6:15 to 8:30 p.m.

ROTARIANS had a civil defense program at their meeting Monday evening, when Civil Defense Chairman George Seederly distributed pamphlets and told of some of the work being done, including the blood typing of the school youth at the High School building daily this week. Monday, the first day, 123 children were typed.

Russell Lindsay of the defense organization, program chairman for the evening, showed a film, "A Voice Will Be Heard," taken at Syracuse, N.Y. It pictured preparations at this key defense center to meet conditions that might result from an atomic explosion. C. A. Burbick gave a talk on the Rotary magazine.

Next Monday evening, Dr. Charles L. Naylor of Ravenna, district governor of Rotary, will be the speaker.

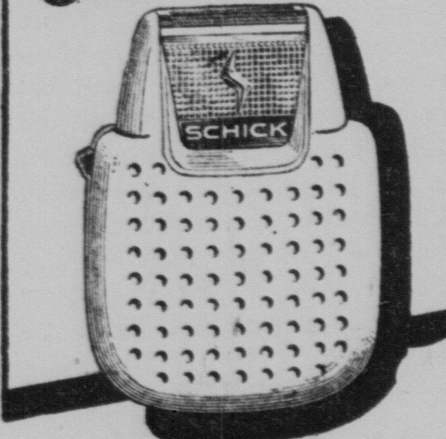

UNDER the direction of the student council, Columbiana High School elected a queen Monday noon for the annual homecoming game Friday evening, when the Columbiana Clippers play Leetonia under the lights at Firestone Park. Jean Groner was elected queen, and Carol Kirtley and Lela Mannas her attendants. Tag night will be observed also at the homecoming game by the Music Boosters Club, the proceeds to go toward its fund to promote music in the schools.

BLACK-TOPPING of the widening job on Route 7 from the Pennsylvania Railroad south 2.07 miles to Middleton was completed Thursday by the Kelly-Meyer Co. of Youngstown. The Highway Department crew still has some work on the berm and ditches to complete.

Mark Klingensmith, cashier of the Union Bank, is chairman of the Columbiana County fund drive for Boy Scouts in 14 communities that don't have chest funds. The county Boy Scout budget for 1953 is $27,710. Of the $5,600 chest goal in Columbiana village and Fairfield township, $1,400 will be for Boy Scouts.

Pancake Day
Draws Taft,
Truman Talks

SHENANDOAH, Ia. (AP)—It's Pancake Day in this town of 7,000 today, and there's a special feature this year: President Truman and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio riding in the same parade.

That's not all, either.

The two political heavyweights will deliver speeches from the same platform this afternoon—2½ hours apart.

And, in keeping with tradition at the annual Harvest Festival popularly known as "Pancake Day," there'll be free pancakes for everyone.

General Chairman Howard Brannen estimated that a crowd of 50,000 would be on hand.

"Why, the pancakes alone will bring out 20,000," he said.

President Truman will ride at the head of the parade, Sen. Taft in the middle.

Plans were carefully laid to avoid any face-to-face meeting between the two.

The President's special train is due in at 10:30 (CST). The senator will arrive by air shortly before.

After the parade and a visit to the National Guard Armory for free pancakes, Mr. Truman will deliver his address at the high school football field. It's scheduled for 12:30 p.m.

Sen. Taft is expected to listen to the speech over the radio at the Elks Club. Paul Ferguson, heading the Taft reception committee, said two stenographers and a recording device would be ready to take down the President's words so Taft can make a rebuttal in his scheduled address at 3 p.m.

But Not Too Far

One of the most telling blows in the fight to save the ballot from neglect has been the assertion that only about half of all Americans of voting age have been voting.

This is supposed to prove that those who haven't been voting have been neglecting the ballot. It is a strong indictment, but it should not be pressed too far. It isn't true.

The voting average is pulled down by the one-party Democratic South which forbids Negroes to vote under various pretexts. In two-party states, the percentage of voting is far above the point where apologies are in order. It is not Americans as a whole who are neglecting the ballot but a minority of Americans who forbid the ballot to another minority, at the expense of all others.

Moreover, among Americans of voting age are hundreds of thousands prevented from voting by registration laws, besides non-citizens, criminals, insane persons, employees not given time off for voting, paupers and persons unable to pay poll taxes.

The United States has plenty of room for improvement in the matter of voting. But statistics which purport to show that half its adult citizens don't vote are ridiculous. Aside from southern states which have no intention of letting millions of their citizens vote because they are the wrong color, there is nothing about ballot neglect which can't be overcome by the kind of get-out-the-vote campaign being waged this year.

Russian Doves

Everything said during the general congress of the Soviet All-Union Communist party which convened Sunday in Moscow will be studied carefully in Washington.

But Washington will be under two handicaps. It will hear only the barest fragments of what is said.

It will have to interpret the fragments. This may explain why the U. S. ambassador, George F. Kennan, was found persona non grata by the Russian government before the congress convened. Mr. Kennan might have been able to interpret more than was convenient.

The thing everybody is watching for, of course, is a switch in Communist tactics to hasten the development of Communist strategy; i.e., a widening scope of Russian power. The most embarrassing thing the party dictatorship could do under the circumstances would be to switch from the tactics of annoyance to the tactics of conciliation. This could be done by party edict, with the aim of letting the steam out of anti-Communist military build-up.

It would have immediate and violent repercussions in the United States and Europe. It could bring about sudden and drastic changes in the tensions of Asia. And since this is the midst of a presidential campaign in the United States, it must be acknowledged it could have a powerful impact there.

The only chance of discounting its effect would be to understand in advance that it was being done for the sole purpose of throwing the anti-Communist nations off their stride, in order to put them at a disadvantage in the ultimate showdown which is the fixed purpose of the Communist conspiracy.

George Did It

When the State Department announced about a year ago the George F. Kennan would be appointed U. S. ambassador to the Soviet Union the following spring, relations with Moscow had reached a point of no return.

The reason Kennan, who was one of the brightest of the bright young men hoping to make a career of diplomacy, was tapped for the responsibility was ironic. He was the best informed man available. He spoke the Russian language. He had studied Russian affairs for years and had firm opinions on U. S. policy with regard to Russia. His job was to tackle the impossible.

Unlike William C. Bullitt, Joseph E. Davies, W. Averell Harriman, Admirals Standley and Kirk and more recently Gen. Smith, who knew no more about Russian affairs than a goose knows about Christmas, George Kennan was an expert. That made it certain the Russians wouldn't like him.

He clinched their dislike a few weeks ago by revealing in a vacation interview that he had no more freedom on movement than he would have had in Germany when it was a police state. That did it. Moscow has asked for his recall, and it has been settled that he will not go back to Russia after he finishes his vacation.

This presumably means that diplomatic relations with an unfriendly government will be given up as a lost hope—the end of the dead-end street which the United States entered nearly 20 years ago when Franklin Roosevelt and Maxim Litvinov saw no reason why diplomatic relations between their governments could not be established on a basis of live and let live.

It's Your Money

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Taxpayers Never Had It So Bad

Speaking of special funds to help elect candidates and to keep them in office after election, the official records show that approximately $375,000,000 of taxpayers' money has been spent for political propaganda by the Truman administration in the last five years.

Alongside this enormous sum, the special funds of $18,000 each of Senator Nixon and Governor Stevenson for purposes however beneficial were "peanuts." Those two special funds came from private individuals and were not charged to the taxpayers. The Truman fund was paid for in high taxes by the American people.

If this Truman fund had been a legitimate expense, there would be no criticism but, since the main purpose was to help the Democratic administration to win the 1948 and 1952 presidential elections, the $375,000,000 fund takes on the aspect of a huge propaganda racket charged improperly to the taxpayers.

THE FACTS were first revealed by the house committee on expenditures after the 1948 election but the Truman victory made it possible for the same system to be maintained thereafter. Since the committee said that $75,000,000 a year was a minimum estimate and that the actual expenditures were far beyond this sum, it seems logical to assume that for the last five years the amount spent has been far in excess of $375,000,000. The congressional reports say:

"An independent survey by the subcommittee revealed an unprecedented flood of news releases from the executive agencies . . . analysis showed that much of it was sheer propaganda designed to influence public thinking and bring pressure to bear upon Congress. Yet, surprisingly, the subcommittee found upon further investigation that only a small portion of the pressure drives, designed to mislead the public and bring pressure on and discredit the Congress, are covered by regular administrative publicity facilities cited above. To the contrary, most of these activities are carried on by propagandists who are concealed on the federal payroll under a variety of innocent-sounding titles."

"Because of this deplorable situation, the subcommittee early concluded it would be impossible at the onset to obtain anything approaching an accurate figure as to the total cost of the federal publicity and propaganda machine. This conclusion was confirmed in informal conferences with officials of the Bureau of the Budget. It is apparent, however, that the total annual costs far exceed the budget figure cited."

IT IS CONCEIVABLE that the annual figure has been about $100,000,000 and that there has been spent in the last five years more than $500,000,000 of taxpayers' money for propaganda to "sell" the Democratic administration and the Democratic Party to the public.

The house committee adds: "Your committee . . . does believe, however, that the American people are unaware of this new technique of influencing public opinion. American citizens have not learned how cleverly facts may be distorted and information may be colored to mislead them. They have not yet realized how their faith in federal government can be abused for the purpose of conditioning national thinking . . ."

"Thus, while the nation as a whole cries for lower taxes and less interference from Washington, it becomes increasingly difficult to decrease either controls or taxes, because important pressure groups are being constantly stimulated from Washington to resist such proposals. Your committee believes we face the threat, if not the reality, of controls being imposed upon controls, taxes upon taxes; and the public is being conditioned by its own government to demand more and more subsidies, guarantees, and outright grants and to defeat any member of congress who dares to raise his voice in protest."

The house committee went on to say it "regretted that the attorney general has been unwilling to undertake remedial action in several instances of illegal or improper activities brought to his attention."

NATURALLY the Democratic administration doesn't prosecute itself, though it is plainly evident that, when public funds are used for purposes not envisaged by Congress, there are conspiracies prevalent to violate federal laws.

The propaganda racket takes many forms — radio, television, newspaper releases, speeches by public officials traveling to various parts of the country at public expense, pamphlets, booklets and brochures, all paid for and distributed by taxpayers' money and designed in an over-all sense to keep the Democratic Party in power.

No such fund ever existed under a Republican administration — in fact, as late as 1941 the total publicity expenditure of the federal government was about one-third of the $75,000,000 considered a minimum estimate beginning in the fiscal year 1948.

Small wonder that President Truman makes stump speeches in the Northwest boasting about government subsidies and echoing the song, "don't let them take it away!" For the Democratic Party "never had it so good," and the taxpayers never had it so bad.

Absolutely Guaranteed

By TRUMAN TWILL

Bright spot in the morning mail was the cryptic statement by the American Association of Nurserymen:

"The American Association of Nurserymen reports that all plants and trees sold by nurserymen are absolutely guaranteed to contain chlorophyll."

That's all there was on the single sheet of paper in the blurb—just this one wry comment on the latest of the great American impulses to improve on nature. But before you think it's only a gag, make your own estimate of how many more shrubs and trees the nurserymen of this boozed land of the gullible might sell if they printed up a million tags, "This contains chlorophyll" and hung same on each of their leafy products.

Or if the people who package grass seed, for example, were to affix tags to their products: "Contents of this package guaranteed to produce chlorophyll."

This is the country, after all which gums up thousands of tons of flakes, wispies, crunchies and puffs each day in the happy illusion that it is getting a fraction of one percent of its minimum daily requirements of vitamins.

All of which gets to be pretty ridiculous when you stop to think about it. One day recently when the dogs at our house were grazing contentedly on grass in the pasture, getting their requirement of chlorophyll for free, it was amusingly clear that long before manufacturers of dog food began to add chlorophyll to their product to deodorize the consumers, the consumers were adding chlorophyll to their diet at no cost to anyone.

It was similarly clear that human beings had stumbled on to natural supplies of vitamins centuries before the entrepreneurs began to sell vitamins in packages and bottles.

Grannies who used to prescribe a strand of lamb's wool for itching between the toes discovered lanolin long before it was given a name and sold by the drop.

Old wives slapping on poultices made of all kinds of strange conglomerations had discovered the germicidal action of molds and bacteria while science still was piddling with the transmutation of silver into gold.

Which brings this back to the point of departure—a cryptic statement by the American Association of Nurserymen that plants and trees are absolutely guaranteed to contain chlorophyll.

Sugar is absolutely guaranteed to contain carbohydrate.

Bricks are absolutely guaranteed to contain clay.

Water is absolutely guaranteed to contain hydrogen and oxygen. Step right up, suckers, to get your allotment of this magic compound. And may the odor of malarkey never be a stench in the nostrils of the cryptic publicist who toils for the American Association of Nurserymen.

The Time Is Bound to Come

Government And Secrecy

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Central Intelligence Agency, to be effective, must be a secret, secure organization. It is the agency which gathers information and data on political and military matters. In effect, C.I.A. is a combined espionage and counter-espionage organization, representing the Army, Navy, Air Force and the State Department.

There are differences of opinion in all countries as to how best to operate such an organization. Involved is the best overt and covert procedure for gathering data on a world-wide basis and the competence of those who evaluate the data. Usually, the covert agencies are separated from the overt. Similarly, it is usual to maintain numerous agencies for gathering data and one agency for evaluating data. In our country, everything is housed in the C.I.A., which some experts say is sound, while others contend that when everything is concentrated under one roof, the peril is that policy may influence the gathering and evaluation of data. That would be unfortunate.

General Walter Bedell Smith heads the C.I.A. and is generally regarded as an able man. His statement, off-the-cuff, that all security agencies, including his own, have been infiltrated by communists, is frightening. It is often practice in intelligence organizations to use enemy personnel to gather data. The "double spy" is not unusual; he sells to both sides. A competent evaluator would know how to appraise such data.

THEREFORE the evaluators are of the greatest importance. If any enemy should get a job as an evaluator, he could wreck our policy and its implementation by eliminating useful data and distorting all data. Alger Hiss was in a position to do that in the State Department.

Therefore, General Smith's testimony on the subject cannot be taken lightly. He is an important official, a man of high integrity, and what he says on such a subject does matter. His off-the-cuff reaction to a question is even more significant than a formal statement. The C.I.A. cannot be made a political football without destroying its usefulness, but no agency of government may be permitted to be sacrosanct and not subject to congressional scrutiny with due regard to national security.

It has been the policy of the Truman administration to employ means for secrecy unusual among a free people. The worst step in this direction was executive order 9835, issued March 21, 1947. By this order, executive officers of the government were instructed to withhold information from congressional committees and to place all executive agencies under censorship.

This order, together with executive order 10290, September 24, 1951, has been employed to protect subversive as well as corrupt officials. John P. Davies, a high State Department official, who recommended such persons as Agnes Smedley, Benjamin K. Schwartz, Edgar Snow, Anna Louis Strong and others to the C.I.A., claimed the right to withhold data from the McCarran committee on grounds of security, where obviously security was in no manner involved.

IT IS DANGEROUS for this country when the term "security" is used as a cover-up by errant officials. When national security is actually involved, all should stand by the country and even the administration. When the word, "security," is cheapened and abused, when it is employed falsely, the danger is that the term will lose its specific meaning and become synonymous with alibi. That danger is imminent.

President Roosevelt was often careless in his statements, as, for instance, when after the Atlantic conference he stated that no new commitments had been made between himself and Winston Churchill; it was subsequently established that new commitments had been made. Senator Ferguson has stated that even in the Pearl Harbor investigation facts were withheld. He said:

"I shall never forget the experience nor the road blocks that were put in our way. Hearings were held for 70 days and a record of 10 million words was accumulated, but from beginning to end vital documents were withheld, crucial witnesses declined to appear, and, under pressure, other witnesses altered their testimony—everywhere secrecy and suppression."

When secrecy is used to cloak failure, when its object is to evade the proper scrutiny by the people into their own affairs, when high officials say what only too soon turns out to be untrue and use the word, security, to deceive—then faith in the administration is lost by the people. It can be worse, because faith in our system of government can be weakened.

Cook All Pork Products Well

A correspondent asks whether it is possible to get the disease known as trichinosis from bacon and ham as well as from fresh pork. The answer to this is yes—the disease can be acquired from any infected pork products which have not been thoroughly cooked.

During 1944 nearly 100,000-000 hogs were slaughtered in this country, of which number approximately 1.5 per cent are believed to have been infected with trichinae. It is calculated that the average person has 200 servings of pork each year, and out of that number three contain trichinae.

This disease, caused by a tiny animal parasite, is much more important than has been generally realized. For example, in Massachusetts between 1936 and 1945, 287 cases were reported with seven deaths.

Surveys in various localities throughout the United States indicate that from about one person in three to one in five have been infected.

When live trichinae are swallowed they pass through the wall of the intestines and are carried to the muscles in various parts of the body. How severe the symptoms will be depends principally on the number of parasites present.

During the first week following the swallowing of infected meat, the worms develop in the intestines. There they may produce nausea and vomiting and watery diarrhea. Sometimes abdominal pain is present.

About the ninth or tenth day the trichinae begin to invade the muscles. Here, if there are enough of them, they produce muscular tenderness, especially in the arms and legs. Sometimes a reddish rash on the skin develops during this stage. There is often fever. Puffiness and swelling of the face, especially around the eyes, is common. In the severe cases the patient becomes anemic and loses weight.

In mild cases the symptoms may last for only 10 or 12 days, while in severe ones, the symptoms may continue for six or eight weeks. This serious danger to the health of the nation can and should be controlled. The most important preventive measures include cooking garbage before it is fed to hogs, the inspection of pork under the microscope, the proper processing of pork products which are eaten without cooking, and stamping out the disease in hogs.

The best safeguard against trichinosis is to cook all pork products thoroughly, though long-term freezing is also said to be effective.

Uncle Ef Says

They can snort at the good old days if they want to, but before the World Wars if an airplane had made a round trip across the Atlantic in less than half a day, it would have been something to cheer about. Now it's just an obvious something to worry about.

After the parasites have been in the muscles for a while they form sacs or cysts which represent a relatively quiet stage of the disease. These, too, however, can produce some muscular pain.

Movies With Depth

Cinerama, the sensational new development which gives a movie three dimensions, is the talk of the amusement world. It provides such a sense of depth that in most pictures you can see how deeply the authors are sunk in the hokum scripts. It makes it possible for a movie fan to see clearly how far back Bob Hope goes for a joke and shows whether the make-up on a new glamour girl is a foot or more thick. If an actress is over her head in her role you can see exactly how far she is sunk. It's wonderful, bub. In cinerama you can be sure by how many miles one movie actor misses another with those "knockout" haymakers. When Hollywood really gets using the new device it will be possible to give all those credit lines depth as well as length, which is what we are most afraid of. But we will not worry too much, provided the invention gives us distance with our buttered popcorn.

CHANGING the subject, nothing exasperated us more in the World Series than Ford Frick's orders calling for a complete ban on rhubarb and hassles. . . . Ford, a poet at heart, forbade any player arguing over balls or strikes or staging emotional displays on the bases. In our book this just about ruins the game. . . . Baseball is a high-tension, hell-for-leather sport for red-blooded men to whom victory is all important and who, if they are any good, resent a raw decision. . . . It is a ball game not a deep-freeze experiment. Rhubarb helped build it up into a great crowd-drawer. . . . Now the player who takes his job seriously enough to blow his top over a close one is penalized, even in World Series play. . . . It seems to us the business of playing Emily Post in the infield and Lord Chesterfield in the outfield is going too far. . . . Is the day at hand when, instead of throwing in the first ball, somebody will toss in the first Book of Etiquette?

It is this column's belief that either candidate for the presidency can get a load of votes if he will call attention to the terrible mail service under the present U. S. Postmaster General, a matter which has made millions of Americans pretty sore. . . . The special-delivery letter now slows up the missive. . . . To mail one costs at least 25 cents (the highest in history), yet they often reach the destination 24 hours behind a regular letter. . . . The outrageous thing about it is that a Post Office Department order of some time back has made it impossible to trace responsibility. . . . The time-honored requirement that a mailman get a signature from anybody receiving a special-delivery letter has been abolished. . . . The claim is that it was done to save time (10 second perhaps), but what it does is to encourage carelessness in special-delivery letter handling, kick efficient service in the pants and thumb the nose at anybody who would like to know what happened to a long-delayed or lost letter. . . . It is not unusual in New York for a special-delivery letter to take 24 to 36 hours getting from Grand Central to Times Square. . . . And many cities all over the country report similar trouble.

SINCE the postmaster general is issuing so many new stamps in so many new shapes, colors and designs, how about some of the following issues?

1. A three-center to commemorate the development of slow motion to a high art.
2. A "National Runaround Stamp" to mark the perfection of the routine employed when you ask what happened to the day's mail.
3. A "Spirit of Indifference" special-delivery stamp (in four colors) to mark the current Post Office Department attitude toward a complaint that a special-delivery letter got in two days behind the regular mail.
4. The "Sez You!" parcel-post stamp to remove any idea that there is anything to the old post office slogan: "Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds." (Snow, rain, heat and gloom, my eye! It's just the new rules!)
5. A "Bring Back the Politician" three-center to commemorate the many years when postmasters general, although political appointees, really got the mails through on time.

Nothing seems so dull as the week after a World Series. . . . "The striped bass weighed 40 pounds and was four inches long with a girth of 22 inches"—New Haven Register. . . . It was the shape that made it distinctive. . . . In "The Quiet Man" the hero drags his Irish bride miles across country by the hair and neck to show her who is boss, following which she melts completely and says, "Come home soon, I'll have dinner waiting for you." . . . Wanna bet? . . . Beatrice Lillie is always good, but we wish she would depend less on her old acts. . . . Clark Gable is doing a movie in Africa and will beat the jungle knows when it is licked. . . . And 3,770 deaths from auto accidents occurred in August, an all-time high for any month. . . . Never have so many autoists shown such few signs of common sense as they are showing today.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO—The engagement of Mayling Soong, a Wellesley graduate, to Gen. Chiang Kai Shek, leader of a moderate Nationalist faction, was recently announced.

TEN YEARS AGO—A $6,236,956.621 appropriation bill, swelling the country's cost of arms to more than six times the bill for World War I, was sent to the house floor with approximately 90 per cent of the new expenditures earmarked for the navy.

FIVE YEARS AGO—Ohioans generally fell in line with President Truman's plea to conserve meat Tuesday and public eating places led the way in deleting meat from their menus.

Salem Travelers Club Begins Its 57th Year Of Activity

The Travelers Club, Salem's oldest organization, Tuesday began its 57th year of activity. Mrs. Carpenter, the club's new president, presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Carpenter greeted the members in the library assembly room where autumn flowers added color to the occasion.

Highlighting the day's program was the review of Howard Spring's book, "Houses In Between." The action of the book centers around the Crystal Palace in London, which was built in 1851 as a symbol of peace.

The program for next Tuesday in the library assembly room will be presented by Mrs. Edwin Tice, Mrs. George Bunn and Mrs. Jack Harroff.

Area Teachers Bliss Foremen Club Taken On Tour Of Bliss Plant

As a part of their program to acquaint area residents with the industries of the community, a tour was conducted through the E. W. Bliss Co. plant last week under the sponsorship of the Industry Information Institute of Youngstown.

Key teachers in the area were introduced to the Bliss plant which is one of the largest manufacturers of presses and rolling mills for steel plants. The teachers were:

Eugene Clewell, president of the Salem Teachers Association; Corwin Gotschall of East Rochester in the West Local School district; Mrs. Mamie Patterson and Mrs. Elizabeth Rutter of the Wayne Local School at RD 1, Lisbon, and John Barton and Eleanor Roller of the Exempted Village School at Columbiana.

Ruud Fennema, production manager at the plant, gave a brief talk concerning the scope of the Bliss company operations which are world-wide. He reviewed the equipment made by Bliss for the steel industry. The teachers were conducted through the plant by Fred Sweitzer Sr., superintendent of the machine and erection shop.

E. Chester Sooy, superintendent of the welding shop, assisted in the tour. Later the teachers were guests of the company at lunch in the Lape Hotel. Other school teachers will be guests for a tour of the plant Nov. 5. After the first of the year clergymen of the area will be tour guests.

Miss Anne Montgomery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Montgomery of Salem, was bid to Kappa Alpha Theta, national social sorority, at Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Lynchburg, Va., Sept. 27.

Parents Told To Respect Child's Rights

Dr. Frank D. Slutz of Dayton spoke to parents at the Methodist Church Monday evening on "The Child's Bill of Rights."

The speaker declared that children should see in their parents reverence for every individual and for what that person can do. He said reverence for law must be statutory and inherent and that law is a key, not a padlock. He cited this third point as a reverence for responsibility, especially when promises are made.

By stating that youth needs economic security, Dr. Slutz maintained that he did not mean big money nor many things but the ability to use things creatively and to enjoy natural things secured without money.

Affectional security he described as another need of youth since they must be made to feel that they are liked. Integrity of character in parents was declared by Dr. Slutz as the third security.

In speaking of the three stages through which every child grows, Dr. Slutz stressed the privilege of "solo flight" for young people about the age of 18. He concluded by saying that to "succeed in parenthood you have to give your children up."

Red Congress To Hear Details Of New Russian 5-Year Plan

MOSCOW (U)—Delegates to the 19th all-Soviet Communist party congress were expected to get a full report today on Russia's production-boosting new five year plan. They may also get around to discussing sweeping changes to be made in the party organization and its by-laws.

These two subjects were the next major items on the five-point agenda as the first big party conclave in 13 years went into its fourth day.

The report on the Soviet Union's fifth five year plan, which extends from 1951 to the end of 1955, was to be presented by M. Z. Saburov, chairman of the State Planning Commission.

Advance reports show the plan envisages an immense buildup of Soviet economic strength, boosting the nation's production by 70 per cent over that of 1950. New goals have been set to boost steel output by 62 per cent, coal by 43 per cent and petroleum by 85 per cent by the end of 1955.

After approving the five-year plan, the 1,366 delegates will take up the new statute outlining the reorganization of the party administration.

This calls for abolition of the Politburo, a Central Committee agency under the leadership of Prime Minister Stalin to which world communism long has looked for guidance. Replacing it will be a Presidium which will "guide the work of the Central Committee between sessions."

The proposed new Presidium not only will offer political guidance but will take over the Organization Bureau (Orgburo), which also is to be abolished.

on the basis of the original estimated cost.

It concluded that engineering control of the project should be brought back into the city administration and exercised by someone who will stay within the framework as originally set up by Council.

Concerning the $200,000 bond issue, Council previously passed an ordinance, June 3, authorizing the sale of the additional bonds to complete the 17 contracts of the East Cold Run project.

However, because the bonds weren't available within the specified time limit, the Ryan Sutherland Co. cancelled them.

As the reservoir project stands now, approximately $209,000 is needed to finish the 17 contracts, not including the installation of pipelines and pumping facilities required to transmit surplus Guilford Lake water, from a point south of the lake, to the reservoir.

Present funds available to complete the contracts total approximately $65,000. The $200,000 which the city hopes to receive from the sale of the bonds, minus expenses incurred in their issuance, will provide the balance of the funds, unless unforeseen extras appear, to complete the 17 reservoir contracts.

Looks To Future
Mayor Vincent stated last night that no hike in water rates was even remotely contemplated. If after completion of the 17 contracts, no money remains to hook up Guilford surplus water with the reservoir, he said, he would insist on a split system, retaining both the city's wells and the reservoir as a combined source of water for Salem until water department revenue is sufficient to complete the Guilford phase.

However, he said, that is not likely to be necessary because stream sources of the reservoir should be more than adequate to provide the amount of water needed by the city. Guilford Lake water, he said, was wanted primarily because of its softness, and as an additional safeguard against severe and prolonged droughts.

ments. Spotters said half the Reds were killed or wounded.

The Chinese assault force that smashed up White Horse today was powered with a wedge of 300 men who charged with bayonets bared.

Another 700 Chinese were right behind.

At the crest the opposing sides closed in hand-to-hand fighting with grenades, bayonets, gun butts and fists.

The South Koreans held off the Red infantrymen but had to give ground when the big Red guns opened up. When the Chinese reached the crest, Allied guns began a withering barrage.

There were bitter battles on a smaller scale on Arrowhead, Finger Ridge, and at other isolated points across the 155-mile battlefront.

Wherever the infantry clashed, Allied and Communist artillery joined in. In the 24 hours ended at 6 p.m. yesterday the Communists had fired 93,600 rounds—almost double their previous high for a single day.

The Communists also brought tanks into action near White Horse and again near Kumsong.

French troops on Arrowhead fought off about 450 Chinese before dusk last night. More Reds pushed into the alley between White Horse and Arrowhead just before midnight. A French counterattack drove them off.

Fighting flared for nine hours around Finger Ridge.

Gosney Defends Role As Hays' Employee

Don R. Gosney, Columbiana County Democratic party chairman, in defending his role as a paid employee of Congressman Wayne Hays, admitted today that he had been on Hays' payroll for six months.

Gosney said he had made nine trips to Washington in that time, handling complaints of constituents from the 18th district for Mr. Hays.

Gosney, also a member of the county board of elections, said Hays appointed him because he (Hays) felt that he should have someone in this district as a field representative since Congress requires his time 11 months out of the year in Washington.

Hays declared that Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon, Republican candidate for congress, had criticized him for not representing this district and then turned around and attacked him for having someone (Gosney) in this district on his payroll.

Yankees Win Fourth Straight World Series

Bob Kuzava's Relief Hurling Whips Dodgers, 4-2; Mantle Cited As Hero Of World Series

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Two main conclusions may be drawn from the World Series which ended yesterday with Brooklyn again in mourning, for the sixth time.

The first is that Mickey Mantle, a 20-year-old from Oklahoma, is destined to become recognized within a few more seasons as the greatest baseball player in the history of the game. The kid can't miss. There's no defense against him.

The second, equally inescapable, is that Casey Stengel, the bemused manager of the New York Yankees, gets advance information from the elves before he makes each move. It would be difficult to prove that Mantle's contributions to his club's 4-2 Series clincher yesterday at Ebbets Field were more spectacular than Stengel's. Everyone in the arena saw the "Phenom" clout the home run and the single in successive innings—the first left-handed, the second right-handed — to put victory beyond reach of the Dodgers.

Nobody saw the wheels whirling in Casey's head when he waved in Bob Kuzava, to pitch to Duke Snider, the hottest of the Dodgers, with the bases filled and only one out in the seventh inning. But they were whirling, all right, and it is almost certain that Stengel knew the blond southpaw from Wyandotte, Mich., would stop the National Leaguers lead from there on.

Provided he does not go into the service, Mantle will be still better next year. In only his second season the kid has done everything for the Yankees that Joe DiMaggio did, in an inspirational way.

There was some debate last night whether Mantle or Johnny Mize, the old codger, was the outstanding Yankee in the Series. In this spectator's opinion, it was no contest.

Mize, it is true, came in when things were not looking too good midway of the series and made a number of tremendous contributions to the Yankee cause. In fact, he put them back in the contention when they appeared to be licked.

But Mantle was in there all the way, scaring Brooklyn pitchers to death and fielding like an angel. He led the assault which enabled the Yanks to tie it at 1-1 behind Vic Raschi on Thursday. He provided the insurance second run in Allie Reynolds' Saturday shutout by tripling in the ninth and scoring on Peeewe Reese's error.

His home run on Monday proved the winning run in the 3-2 Yankee victory which sent the playoff to the seventh game, and he killed the Dodgers completely dead with his two big ones yesterday.

In all, the Mick propelled 10 hits in 29 appearances for an average of .345. By an amazing coincidence, this was exactly what Reese and Duke Snider did for the Brooklyn cause.

Snider, for a time, looked like being the hero of the Series. In fact, the big swinger from California battled the Yanks right down to the wire while others on his company failed to last. But in the end he had to yield honors to Mantle.

The most unfortunate figure was Joe Black, the big Negro rookie who rocketed the Dodgers in front with a beautifully pitched triumph over Reynolds in the opening game but was turned back by Allie's shutout in the fourth. Manager Charlie Dressen obstinately held Black out of Monday's Yankee equalizer in order to have him well rested for yesterday's big one—and then Joe didn't have it!

Black sat the Yanks down very smartly for the first three innings yesterday, and we like to feel, as an expert second-guesser, that he would have done the same thing the previous day if Dressen had only put him in to protect a 1-0 lead in the last three innings.

After yesterday's third inning, it may be conceded, Black was tired and wavering. So was Ed Lopat, and Vic Raschi, who tried to take Reynolds off the hook.

Preacher Roe, who came in after Black had given up, didn't have a thing except a long time between pitches.

And that was the point at which Stengel wheeled out his secret weapon, Kuzava, the only pitcher in the park who wasn't about to collapse of the blind staggers. Casey used the same tactics against the New York Giants a year ago. It was Kuzava, perhaps the most obscure southpaw in modern history, who snuffed out the final three Giants in the "51 World Series."

He did it again. The Dodgers popped up or struck out or sent harmless flies into the stiff breeze blowing into the plate. When Reese fled to Gene Woodling for the final out in short left field, the Yanks climbed all over Kuzava and gave him a wonderful drubbing.

And Stengel went around thanking each of the little men whom nobody else could see, he told each of them, personally, that he had done a whale of a job all year, and that he would see him next spring at the same old stand.

Halfback Ollie Cline of the Detroit Lions in the National Football League has a strange hobby. He makes bullets.

Skippin' Around

By SKIP GREENISEN

"Where's the scoreboard?"

That's the question that popped up two weeks ago when the Salem High School Quakers played their initial home game of the season against Youngstown Chaney.

And here it is—two days before the Quakers' second appearance at Reilly Stadium—and still no clock is up. Last year a brand new timepiece replaced the old clock which had to be manually operated but the new clock was absent at the first home contest and still hasn't been erected.

It seems school officials haven't allowed the clock to be erected because of its enacuracy in keeping time but that offers little excuse for the scoreboard (to show team scores) not being in operation.

When the Quakers faced Chaney, both of the teams' fans had to depend on the announcer to keep them posted on the score. The contest was a low scoring affair but it might well have been a game such as was staged in Canton last week by the Quakers.

This corner wonders why the clock can't be or hasn't been repaired before now. The Quakers played their first two games away and surely gave enough time for the clock to be put into workable condition. Another away game was held last week and the clock should be in running order by now, especially with six straight home games remaining to be played at the stadium.

If the clock cannot be repaired, why not erect it anyway in its proper position and have it announced prior to the start of the game that it is not the official time, as they do in Municipal Stadium when the Cleveland Browns play. What is good enough for the professionals should be good enough for the Quakers' games.

One of the disadvantages of the clock is that it is run from the windows of Reilly School and can't be official because it is so far away from the playing field. A solution would be to have the clock operated from the field or press box.

Another solution, of course, would be to have a completely new scoreboard erected in a suitable position, closer to the field, where all could see it. A hazy evening makes it hard to see the board where it is presently located on the side of the school.

However, we hope that the scoreboard itself will be in operation Friday evening for the convenience of football followers. We also hope that the clock will be running, at least by the following Friday when the Quakers face the Bengals of Wellsville.

GRID RIVALRY ENDS
AKRON, O. (AP)—Kenneth Cochran, athletic director and football coach, says Akron University is not renewing its grid rivalry with Baldwin-Wallace. The Berea club trimmed Akron for the 11th straight time Saturday, 33-7. B-W has won 17 times, Akron 14 times, and one game ended in a tie.

After-The-Game Comments

By RALPH RODEN
BROOKLYN (AP) — Moon-faced Johnny Mize grinned:

"It's on ice."
The good natured 39-year-old slugger of the perennial World Champion New York Yankees was massaging his aging feet in the dressing room when Gene Woodling hauled in Peeewe Reese's fly for the final out of the thrilling 1952 World Series.

While the Yanks boisterously celebrated the winning of their fourth straight championship, the anguished Brooklyn Dodgers were bemoaning the loss of their club's sixth fall classic in as many attempts.

A damp-eyed Jackie Robinson expressed the general opinion of the crestfallen National League standard bearers.

"It was that Mantle, that Mickey Mantle killed us."

"If it hadn't been for him I think this would have been a very different series."

"We came so close, we had so many opportunities. But Mantle was the difference."

Joe Black, Brooklyn's brilliant rookie righthander who started three of the games, winning the first and losing two including yesterday's 4-2 clincher, gloomily observed:

"It gnaws at you. It tears you inside. We got so many men on base. We kept saying to ourselves 'this is it,' and then there was that let down."

"It would have been better if we'd had our brains knocked out, lost 10-0. We would have felt better about it."

Mantle, surrounded by well wishers, was uncertain over the type of pitches he belted that decided the issue.

"I hit a curve or slider for my home run (in the sixth) and a similar pitch for my single (in the seventh)." The homer broke a 2-2 tie and the single drove in an insurance run.

"Winning the series was a greater thrill than my homers, yes, even greater than my grand slammer against the White Sox during the regular season," Mantle said.

Jubilant Casey Stengel, at the Yankee helm the past four seasons, held court all over the room. Old Case praised Mantle and relief pitcher Bob Kuzava, assured one and all that he was not retiring and then launched into a description of the game.

"Our first pitcher (Ed Lopat) he did real good but they crossed us up on a couple of bunts (Jackie Robinson and Roy Campanella bunted in succession in the fourth after a single by Duke Snider)."

"Then our next pitcher (Allie Reynolds) pitched real good but he got a little tired and so did our next one (Vic Raschi) and that fella (Kuzava) came in there and really took me out of a jam."

Kuzava entered in the seventh inning with the bases loaded and one out. He retired Snider and Robinson on pop flies and held the Dodgers hitless the rest of the way.

The fire-balling lefthander said he was lucky in getting Snider, who tied a record by hitting four home runs during the series, to pop out.

"I fed him a fast one straight down the middle on the 3 and 2 pitch. I was lucky that he got just a piece of the ball."

Dodger skipper Chuck Dressen paid tribute to Kuzava.

"That Kuzava was burning his fast ball in there," Dressen said. "He was very quick."

Dressen also was high in his praise for Reynolds, who won two games and saved another.

"Mantle and Mize hurt us but in the long run it was Reynolds who gave us the most trouble. He's big and strong, a great pitcher," Dressen said.

Lipp Wins Two-Mile Run; Salem Loses

Bill Lipp, sophomore athlete, captured the two-mile event against Leavittsburg last night on the Salem Golf Club course but the Salem High School Cross Country runners were beaten by a 24-35 score.

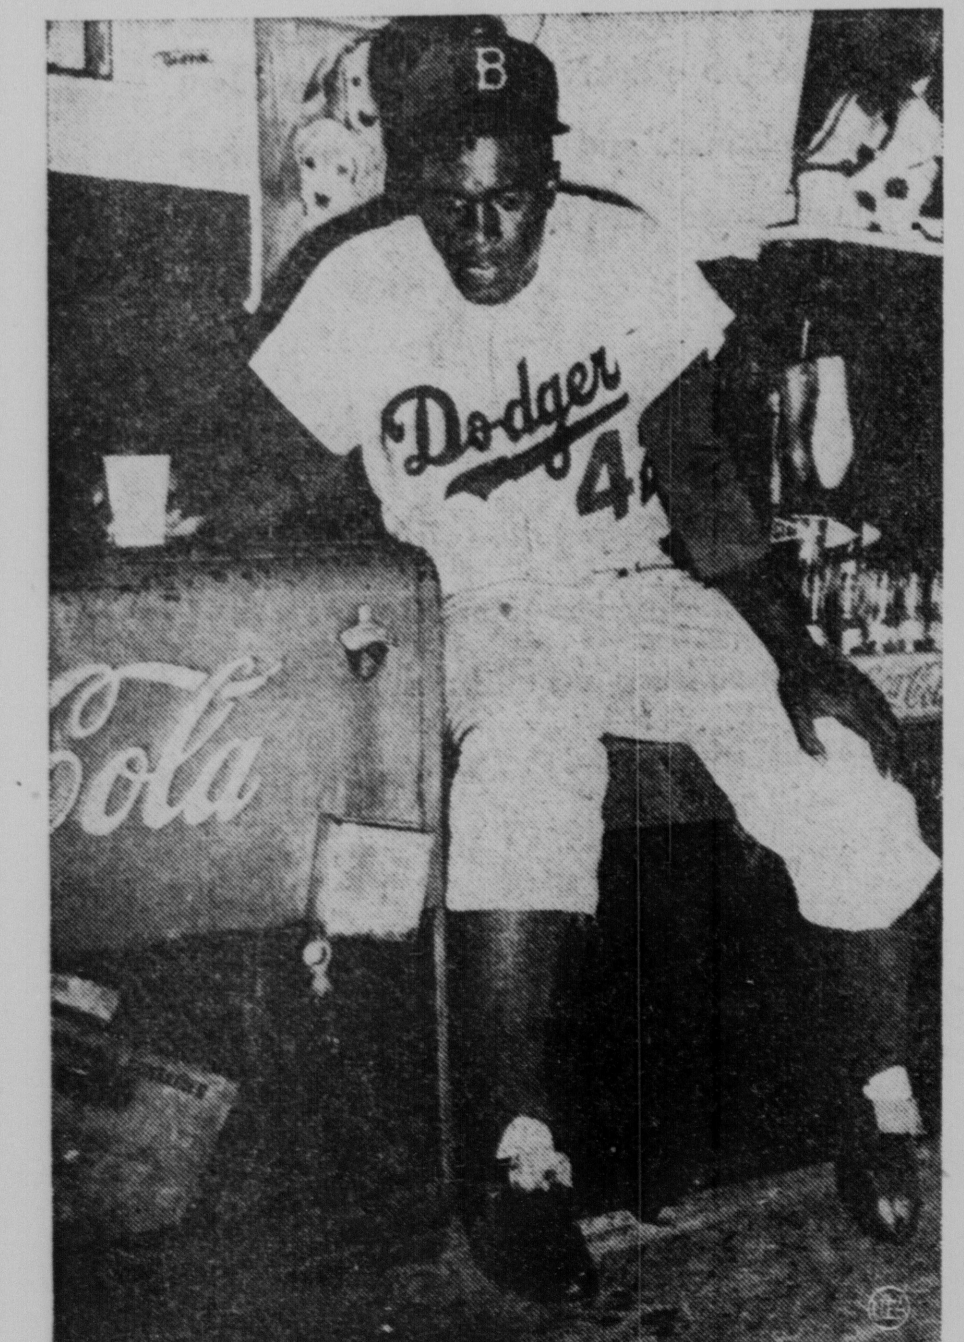

The meet, the first of several planned for the runners, saw Lipp win with a time of 12:11, some 25 yards ahead of Leavittsburg's runner, Art Hill. Hill tried for the lead several times during the course but Lipp held him off with spurts and kept ahead of the field.

Following the two runners were a pair of Leavittsburg cross countrymen in Chuck James and Bob Shilliday for third and fourth place honors. Tom Johnston and Eddie Votaw of Salem captured fifth and sixth place but two other Leavittsburg runners, Jim Werner and Glenn Gleason, captured seventh and eighth.

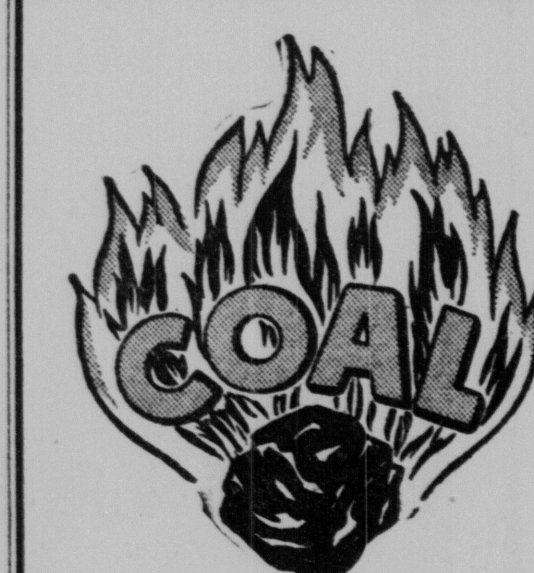

Other Salem runners who took part in the meet were Dave Wiggers, 11th place, Jerry Snowberger, 12th place, Conrad Thorne, 13th place, and Dave Reichert, Kenny Bosu, Gregory Benedict, Bill Myberg and Jerry Myers.

Ken Jacobs, coach, will take his cross country runners to East Liverpool next Friday for a meet there and a triangular meet with Salem, Warren and Niles competing is being arranged for the local course Oct. 15.

NAME OFFICERS
CLEVELAND (AP) — Ollie Downs has been named president of the Northeastern Ohio Association of the Amateur Athletic Union. The officers, all Clevelanders, also include John Nagy, first vice president, and James A. Lee, re-elected secretary treasurer.

DEJECTED—Dodger second baseman Jackie Robinson sits dejectedly in the clubhouse after the New York Yankees won the final game of the World Series 4 to 2 at Ebbets Field in Brooklyn. The victory gave the Yanks their fourth straight World Series title.

Badgers, Illini Picked To Win This Weekend

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO (AP)—The football seer picks at another Midwest Saturday.

Wisconsin 21, Ohio State 7—We picked the Badgers to score 20 points against Illinois and that they did. The Wisconsin attack is really wicked.

Illinois 19, Washington 13—Two pitchers who didn't get warmed up last weekend, Tommy O'Connell of the Illini and Don Heinrich of the Huskies, should find the range.

Purdue 20, Iowa 7—We hit the nail on the head picking the Boilermakers over Ohio State 21-14. Knowing Wisconsin will take a lot of crowding to beat out of the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl, Purdue will have the throttle open against the Hawkeyes.

Michigan 14, Indiana 13—The Hoosiers have a lot of zip, but the Wolverines are in no mood for a third straight whipping.

Northwestern 20, Minnesota 18—With Chuck Hren back in harness, the Wildcats should be snarling a bit in this Big Ten opener for both teams.

Notre Dame 21, Pittsburgh 14—This is almost a breather for the Irish after Penn and Texas.

Michigan State 21, Texas Aggies 13—The Spartans dropped their guard against Oregon State and nearly got conked.

Marquette 18, Detroit 7—Marquette emerged a stout club from its opening spanking by Wisconsin.

The University of Mississippi football team averaged 16.6 first downs per game last season in 10 games. That was a new school record.

Miss Moneybags

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—How would you like to earn a living giving away money?

Sound easy? "It has its problems," says Janice Gilbert, who is known as Miss Moneybags in the entertainment world.

In the last seven years she has handed out more than 2 million dollars to contestants as the paying teller of "Break the Bank," one of the pioneer radio (ABC) and television (CBS) network quiz programs.

The trouble with this otherwise pleasant chore is that many in the audience fail to realize Janice is merely a paid performer, dishing out the sponsor's dough. They persist in regarding her as a privately wealthy "lady bountiful" with a philanthropic urge to shower her own money on people who are able to give the name of the national anthem or tell who killed cold robin.

"It is weird—really sometimes frightening," she said.

Three times she has had to change her telephone number because of the people who call her up—sometimes in the middle of the night—to ask for financial help. Last year she received requests for aid from 327 charitable agencies, including "an organization to help indigent wayfarers in Arkansas."

High-pressure salesmen also mistake her for a brunette gold mine.

"One tried to sell me a $21,000 town car," laughed Janice, who can't drive an automobile and walks to work from the subway. "Another was miffed because I wouldn't buy an island off Florida."

But Janice, who acts in from four to eight soap operas a day besides her quiz show stint, and her husband are sinking their savings in a new home they call "Break-the-Bank," because that's what it did—it broke our bank account.

At the start of each show she stuffs up to several thousand dollars in her handbag. Two bodyguards and a watchdog stand by to forestall any possible bandits who might try to seize the cash without bothering to answer the questions.

"I still get a real thrill out of seeing someone win who really needs the money," she said. "The most I ever gave out was $11,840 to a corporal who had been crippled in Korea."

Once she became so nervous she tore up $500 in bills, another time bit her tongue so sharply she had to go to a hospital. In other misadventures she has been clawed by a raccoon, nipped by a monkey and insulted by a non-housebroken hen used to illustrate queries on the program.

Still another time, told to "bring out the next animal," she blithely opened a cage and started to lift out the occupant—a wild ocelot. Its trainer screamed a warning.

"I just thought it was a big cat," said Janice. "It could have taken my arm off, but all it did was lick my hand."

Giving away a fortune in cash over the years has taught her a lot about people.

"The shiest, most introspective people are the real hams at heart," she said. "Doctors, oddly enough, are the biggest showoffs. And what worries most people isn't how much money they'll win. They fret over whether their friends will think them dumb if they miss an easy question."

Janice said an agent from the Bureau of Internal Revenue usually stands by to check the names and addresses of all winners.

"Often he asks them if they want to pay their income tax right then and there," she said. "But so far as I know everybody always says, 'No, thanks, I'll figure it out later.'"

W. R. Hearst Estate May Be 56½ Million

LOS ANGELES (AP)—William Randolph Hearst's estate has been appraised at $40,499,214 on the basis of assets listed so far, but attorneys indicated today that still other assets to be listed will boost the gross value to 56½ million dollars.

A previous inventory listed assets at $16,070,255, mostly stocks in oil companies and enterprises in other newspapers. The second inventory, filed yesterday in Superior Court, includes 66,667 shares of non-voting common stock of the Hearst Corp., valued at $40,000,200.

The publisher died Aug. 14, 1951, at the age of 88. He left most of his estate to his widow, Mrs. Millicent V. Hearst, their five sons and charitable foundations.

Massillon Navy Pilot Is Killed In Crash

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP)—A Navy jet plane crashed and exploded in an apricot orchard Tuesday, killing the pilot. He was identified by the Navy as Lt. Stanley J. Dunmore, about 30, a Massillon, O., reserve officer recalled to duty only last July. He is survived by the widow, Lucille, and three sons living in Sunnyvale.
